SLIGHT GM ERROR CORRECTED BY PLAYERS!!!

Following the "Fall 1901" moves, the supply center chart failed to list Ser as an Austrian gain. Several players called this to my attention, and Austria's build, along with the correct chart is supplied below:

SUPPLY CENTER CHART

ENGLAND (Almström): Edi. Liv. Lon. Nwv. Builde F Lon. (4)

FRANCE (Jones): Mar. Par. Bre. No change. (3)

GERMANY (Beversau): Bor. Mun. Kie. Den. Hol. Builde A. Ber. A. Mun. (5)

ITALY (Lamb): Rom. Ven. Nap. Tur. Tri. Builds A Ven. F. Nap. (5)

AUSTRIA (Brooks): Bud, Vic, ~~Sam~~, ~~Sam~~, Builds A Vic, 1 Nap.

TURKEY (Cleaver): Con., Fink, Sey., Bult. Builds F Con. (4)
RUSSIA (Mischel): Mac., Sov., Std., War., Sov., Pur., Buil., Builds A, Std., F, Sov. (6)

The "Spring 1902" moves are due 20 October 1971. A replacement player for France is sought.

PRESS RELEASES

London:

P.M. Almstr8m today said. "Where it is not written it is not implied."

Budapest:

The Emperor Franz Josef lept out of a sick-bed ( his new girl-friend has a cold), when he heard the news of the temporary capture of his favorite port. In mild tones he stated. "Death to all those garlic-eating lice."

He also pledged not to shoot another peasant until the towers of Rome had been torn down, stone by stone, and tossed into the sea.

Vienna:

Archduke Ferdinand has taken personal command of the 4th Imperial Naval Corps and has sworn not to drink until the uncivilized upstart on the minor throne of Italy has been torn limb from limb by rabid dogs.

Geneva: Kharmann Strasse:

Diplomatic observers this week expressed surprise at the vehement reactions of the Austrian government to the mild incursions of the Italians. It was felt here that the Austrians failed to note that the Italians were only following the examples set by the Austrians (albeit another government) during the period 1815-1848.

xx

ATLANTIS applauds the President's action lately announced—that is, that the people in the Bureau of Labor Statistics be replaced. They have been putting out announcements that have hurt the Presidents image and political strength.

These actions he has taken will endear him to every Diplomacy player; for he has used our favorite method to project a favorable image of himself and his policies. That is, he is going to twist and bond statistics to say what he wants

ATLANTIS "BLACK PEN" award for the best job of black propaganda and deception.

Congratulations also go out to the President for signing the draft extension bill, proving he is more interested in continuing war than any wargamer.

To all the people who have asked about more game openings in ATLANTIS, I am afraid that until one or more games in progress presently end, there will be no more opened until at least 1972.

There may be varient games open in such 'zines as LA GUERRE, Buddy Tretick, (address above); XENOGOGIC, Larry Peery, (address above), and SHAAFT!, Andrew Phillips, (address above). There will also be a game of Princeps open in the varient 'zine of ATLANTIS, MU.

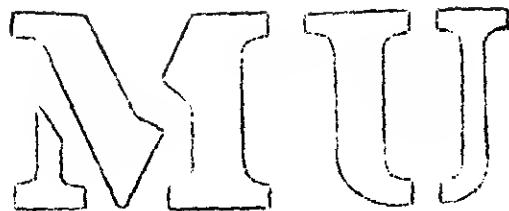

Novice players should look into the regular Diplomacy 'zine for newcomers, NEOPHYTE, put out by Len Lakofka (address above), which has very low game fees.

MU is opening up a game of Princeps, the varient Diplomacy game of conquest set in 138, with seven players as "Proconsuls" and various barbarian leaders that run around and cause havoc.

Rules and maps are free to players, and there is no game fee.
To enter, simply tell me you want to play.
